Matt, known as “Ziggy” to his coaching colleagues, has been a WFC Rangers coach for five years and has also had a successful three-year run as the head coach of the boys’ program at Bellingham High School. Matt played four years at Western Washington University and currently plays with Bellingham United. Matt says his goal is to provide an environment for young players to develop and grow. “I will prepare and train our players to attain the highest level of soccer that they aspire to achieve, while at the same time providing a fun and positive atmosphere,” Matt said. “Players will take the fundamentals that they have previously learned, and apply them to a dynamic style of play necessary to compete at the club level.”
